Fine Ingredients

Start with fine ingredients,
When you cook it's important
To start with fine ingredients.
Choose them with some loving care.
Take the time to look, compare,
And choose them with some loving care.
The thought that you give
Makes it all taste so much better.
Like interlocking memory,
A message linked, a history inscribed
Indelibly on you inside.
A chain unbroken cast
In fields and farms at last arrives.
So set the table and take it all in.
Set the table and take it all in.

Not So Far Away

Sittin' on a subway train,
"I'm so sorry for the delay,"
Says the man on the intercom,
"We'll be moving again shortly."
So you settle in and read another page,
Put on your headphones and drift into a daze.
Playing in your mind a scene beyond the cityscape,
A field, a farm, an open space
That seems so far away.
But all you've got to do is change
To the E train at the 42nd Street station.
Ride on out to Queens to just before Jamaica.
You take a good look around and you'll see.
You take a good look around and you'll see.
In your apartment on a rainy day,
You can't contain your energy so you play.
But then the downstairs neighbor knocks to say,
"Your thumping is most disturbing!"
So you settle down and try another game,
But you are bored now, you drift into a daze.
Playing in your mind a scene beyond the cityscape,
A field, a farm, an open space
That seems so far away.
But all you've got to do is change
To the E train at the 42nd Street station.
Ride on out to Queens to just before Jamaica.
You take a good look around and you'll see.
You take a good look around and you'll see.
That all you've got to do is change

To the E train at the 42nd Street station.
Ride on out to Queens to just before Jamaica.
You take a good look around and you'll see.
You take a good look around and you'll see.

Bulldozer

You don't need a bulldozer
When you're working on the farm,
For sowing seed a bulldozer is a little bit too large.
You don't need a bulldozer
When you're working on the farm,
For sowing seed a bulldozer is a little bit too large.
What you need's a lot time and a friend or two
Being there on your side, they will see you through.
You don't need a bulldozer
When you're working on the farm,
For sowing seed a bulldozer is a little bit too large.
You could use a pickup truck
And a tractor for the mud,
But in the end a friend is who
Will save you from the flood.
So when your skies are cloudy,
Just look around, just look around now.
And then you will see
That what you really need is everyone
Who's looking back at you now.
And all of that heavy machinery
Will just bring you down.
The circular saw to the socket set said,
"Can you see that hammer who's hitting that head?
Working together, like good friends do,
Whatever shape you're in, they're there for you."
The socket set said, "You've got that right!
Those nuts who bolt aren't wrapped too tight."
So ratchet it up or ratchet it down,
A good friend always sticks around.
So when your skies are cloudy,
Just look around, just look around now.
And then you will see
That what you really need is everyone
Who's looking back at you now.
And all of that heavy machinery
Will just bring you down.
Just look around!
And then you will see
That what you really need is everyone
Who's looking back at you now.

Freeze Tag

The sunny days are getting longer
So that we can stay out late
And play a little while more.
We can run until we're tagged
And then we're frozen there,
Waiting to be rescued by a friend
Who's reaching out with a hand to set us free.
We'll keep looking for a friendly hand to set us free.
The sunshine plays up in the branches,
Chasing the green from the top down to the base,
Where we're waiting 'til you look away.
So we can run until we're tagged
And then we're frozen there,
Waiting to be rescued by a friend
Who's reaching out with a hand to set us free.
We'll keep looking for a friendly hand to set us free.
Close your eyes and count to ten,
Before you know it another summer's gone,
The windy days of fall gettin' shorter and shorter,
Until it's winter time again, it's winter time again,
And though it's nice to be out in the snow sometimes,
We'll keep on looking for, we'll keep on looking for
The sunny days to get longer.
So we can run until we're tagged,
And then we're frozen there
Waiting to be rescued by a friend,
Who's reaching out with a hand to set us free.
We'll keep looking for a friendly hand to set us free,
A friendly hand to set us free.

Secret Agent

There's a secret agent in disguise,
An undercover alias that tries
To hide his real identity from you.
He's been trained to falsely advertise,
To play the bait and switch on the unwise
Who gullibly are taken for a ride.
But I'm gonna tell you the secret,
I'm gonna give you the key,
Yeah, I'm gonna pass you the confidential information.

Look at the label, all you've got to do is read,
You're gonna blow his cover when you see:
Corn sweetener, corn syrup, dehydrated cane juice,
Dextrin and dextrose,
Fruit juice concentrate and glucose, fructose.
Oh, honey, don't forget
High fructose corn syrup,
Invert sugar, lactose, maltodextrin, too.
Malt syrup, maple syrup,
Saccharose, saccharin, raw sugar,
Sorghum, sucrose, xylose,
Oh, honey don't forget to take it slow as molasses
If you see turbinado, treacle, or syrup of any kind.
There's a secret agent in disguise,
An undercover alias that tries
To hide his real identity from you.
But I'm gonna tell you the secret,
I'm gonna give you the key,
Yeah, I'm gonna pass you the confidential information.
Look at the label, all you've got to do is read,
You're gonna blow his cover when you see.

A Lighter Step

She's a living Earth so take a lighter step. (4X)
Heavy footprints that we leave behind
Are trampling the fragile life design.
But you can wear a softer shoe,
All you've got to do is keep in mind:
She's a living Earth so take a lighter step. (4X)
We can choose the way we walk through life.
Shuffle out the door, turn out the lights,
Traipse on down the avenue,
When you get the chance, eat local food.
Hit the road, but take the train,
And know that what you use you use again.
Ramble on past the miles of aisles
Where what you don't need is kept.
She's a living Earth so take a lighter step. (4X)
